Wanda, Founder of SoCal :

I want to say thank you, to all for your prayers and concerns. The past couple of months have been tough for so many reasons, but, just know SoCal is still HERE! Due to funding constraints, we saw fit to hold off on the start of cohort six. In the coming days an announcement will be made with the exact starting date in June for cohort six.

The time has come for me to ask, "Do you have skin in the game?" Translation: are you willing to help our participants by investing in their future not YOURS? If you're wondering what I mean, it's simply this. We have received numerous referrals for our program, but no funding for them. So I had to take stock.

It required me to take a step back and question if we were on the right track? The time spent, connections made, and plans that were finalized over the last month and a half led me to a resounding, YES! But now we need those who are wanting to partner with us, by referring potential participants, to follow through with the funding of those participants. The services, preparation, and opportunities we provide come at a cost. The success of our participants is the goal. And with the follow through of our supporters, we could do even more for our participants. Anyone who wishes to support our mission to prepare our participants is welcome to do so by simply visiting the SoCal website where we have decided to add a contribution button. I would be remiss if I didn't offer my sincere gratitude to DA Summer Stephens and her team for supporting our program for the past several years with grant funding.

We are looking forward to great success and partnership. BE VESTED! OUR PARTICIPANTS ARE DEPENDING ON YOU!

Maria, Grant Writer:

This poem has followed me everywhere. It is written by the famous poet, Rumi. It serves as a remind to me that beauty exists all around us-revel in it!

"God's joy moves from unmarked box to unmarked box,
from cell to cell. As rainwater, down into flower bed.

As roses, up from ground.
Now it looks like a plate of rice and fish,
now a cliff covered with vines,
now a horse being saddled.
It hides within these,
till one day it cracks them open"

Angeleck, Intake Specialist/Case Manager:

A favorite, and perhaps well known, poem of mine is "Still I Rise" written by the wonderful Maya Angelou. Below is a brief snippet.

You may write me down in history

With your bitter, twisted lies,
You may trod me in the very dirt
But still, like dust, I'll rise.

A Poem From All of Us:

Have you ever noticed how much water
hates to argue
How it molds itself into the shape of the pour,
makes a home where it lands,
but also never gives up its identity.

As if to say, "Sure, ill stay but only if I can be myself."
I think there is a lesson here.
